Four IV to design for HochVier shopping centre

Four IV has been appointed to work on Frankfurt's new shopping centre – part of the HochVier development. Due to open in 2009, the scheme is touted as an equivalent to London's Oxford Street. As well as the shopping centre, the mixed-used development will include office space and a hotel, designed by architect Massimiliano Fuksas. Four IV's work will range from signage to interior finishes and street furniture.
